

KING STREET WEST

EAST

INTRODUCTION

The contents of this book will best be understood if read in conjunction with the master KING Toronto book where we delve into the origins of the project, how it fits into the surrounding context and the overarching ambitions that we have for the project. On completion of the master book, we have put together a separate book for each of the four mountains of KING Toronto. Because of the unique characteristics of this project, it does not lend itself well to being summarized or condensed so please bear with us. KING Toronto really is, in every respect, a project that is all about its unique and fine-grain characteristics. The lobbies for each of the four mountains (North, East, West and South) draws from different design inspiration and surprisingly 80% of the homes within the project are unique.

What Moshe Safdie was trying to accomplish with Habitat 67 was to use architecture as a means to create community. We are trying to achieve the same primary goal, but at the same time allowing the individual resident to express their individuality. On one hand, we are embracing the idea of bringing people together into a real community of like-minded residents who amongst other characteristics, share an interest in great architecture and a love for this wonderful neighbourhood. On the other hand, we are recognizing that every individual wants to maintain what makes us unique and to create the circumstances to allow this self expression to blossom.

When we gave Bjarke Ingels and his team at BIG the original design brief, it is these two objectives that were at the core of what we wanted to achieve. Another element of the design brief was the idea of using the modernity of the form, in this case the four mountain peaks, to compliment and celebrate the beautiful historic buildings that we have been blessed with on the site, but never to mimic them. Similarly, the materiality of the glass blocks was chosen to compliment and celebrate the historic brick and beam buildings.

To layer on top of this, the mandate that we gave to our passionate landscape architect, Marc Ryan from Public Work, was to bring as much nature back into the city as possible and to strengthen one of the best characteristics of this neighbourhood of King West – a neighbourhood characterized by diverse streets, laneways and courtyards – its fine grain typology.

The interior architecture for this project, led by Francesca Portesine from BIG, is from the same team that led the design on Vancouver House. It is always advantageous to be able to continue a conversation rather than start one from the beginning. This has allowed us to take the principles of Gesamtkunstwerk that we adopted on Vancouver House and to continue to explore this philosophy here on KING Toronto. I hope that as you flip through the pages of both the master book and this one, that you see our continued effort to adopt the principles of Gesamtkunstwerk, the Total Work of Art, into as much of this project as we can. Similar to Vancouver House, we are just getting started and we will continue to find opportunities throughout the construction process to strengthen this core principle.

Thank you to our partner Allied and all of the willing collaborators that have allowed us to enjoy this journey.

WE ARE NOT A DEVELOPER

We are not motivated by the same things most developers are. Our priorities are different. Development is just one thing that we do. It affords us other – often more interesting – opportunities.

Our aim is to become a company unlike any other. Diversity is at our heart and is the key to how we set ourselves apart.

We embrace our eclectic nature, broadening our interests, actively pursuing interesting collaborations outside property: art, culture, technology, sustainability, infrastructure, etc.

We very publicly define ourselves through the things we do. Always allying ourselves with those who share our values.

We explain to the world who we are through the things we do.

Westbank goes beyond just creating buildings; we acknowledge the surroundings and the existing community and create a new addition to the space and community that improves and gives back. Ultimately, we aim to create a positive impact on how people live today.

We see the opportunity to claim this holistic approach to development as the essence of our brand and to call it out. Just like Bauhaus created rules and influenced Modernism, Westbank could influence where culture is today and goes tomorrow.

CULTURE IS OUR CURRENCY

We are a culture company.

Everything we do serves to propagate culture.

We define our philosophy through collaboration and association.

We invite unique and interesting collaboration between cultural pioneers, showcasing their work, using it to inform and influence our projects.

We take on the role of patron of culture, and distribute it globally.

In doing so, we define ourselves as more than just a real estate company, or a property development company – we become a bank that deals exclusively in cultural transactions, a global force for the exposition and propagation of cultural movements.

LEGACY

The relentless pursuit of perfection. This is the one thing that informs everything we do. Whatever sector we are working in. It is this focus that will create our legacy. Everything we build and do has to be the best expression of us.

It could be about making a city more beautiful. Creating cleaner energy to power that city. Better working practises for those that work for and with us, or giving an artist a new audience, opening people's eyes to something they were previously unaware of. Before you embark on any project, and at every point during it – always ask yourself: will what we leave behind be better than what went before?

Then go make it. And never give up.

INTERIOR ARCHITECTURE

KING Toronto's interiors have been developed in response to the historical nature of the nearby buildings and of the neighbourhood itself. We saw an opportunity to revisit the industrial aesthetic and heritage of historic Toronto and to accentuate it with refined European influences and touches.

Toronto is Canada's largest city – its bustling financial capital and our project – will be an island in this dynamic environment: the new community flowing through the spaces will find calmness and serenity while enjoining the bright, green and permeable outdoor/indoor spaces.

In the same way the architecture gently embraces and enhances the existing buildings, framing them in a cascade of white translucent pixels, the interiors frame the individual experience, with comforting, natural materials and lush vegetation.

From the public areas to the private spaces, we offer a journey through a newly built geological formation: entering through a grand fissure – the atrium; resting/enjoying life in the forest – the courtyards and lobbies; moving through hidden galleries – the corridors; and, finally, reaching the top of the mountain, where a glistening 'glacier' is waiting to be admired and where each individual home provides a place to settle down and recharge.

The public spaces are conceived as an extension of the residences with lounge areas resembling a living room: welcoming and comfortable, inviting you to stop, wait, read or chat with friends. The selection of furniture and accessories was calculated to bring out the inherent qualities of the living spaces as gathering places.

The refined, industrial aesthetic can be felt in both public and private spaces: while it is a defining element, clearly visible in the former, it is subtler and focused more on the details in the latter.

The materials used in the public areas are mainly aged/blackened metals, corrugated concrete, textured glass in different scales and lush vegetation. Within the residences, service areas such as bathrooms and kitchen are grouped together to form an anchoring block. Clad in a choice of three different materials, this solid, gravitational element forms a counterpoint to the translucency and luminosity of the glass-block façade. The furniture selections for the residences was made in collaboration with B&B Italia and Maxalto. Through their range of products, we combined timeless Italian design with contemporary innovation. The accessories for homes, as well as furniture for public spaces, are selected predominantly from Scandinavian inspiration, which highlight our design sensibility through the use of light, warm materials and a muted color palette.

When developing interiors, BIG always takes a holistic approach to design, from large scale to small scale, the design intent is carried through to create a complete vision. As a result, we were able to design several custom products, ranging from the suite entry doors, terrazzo floor tiles, wood parquet and kitchens, to a piano for the east atrium.

MIELE PURELINE GENERATION 6000

Westbank deals exclusively with Miele, the world's leading high-end appliance manufacturer, who has curated an appliance lineup in keeping with a building of this quality.

Miele PureLine appliances seamlessly flow into the design of a modern kitchen. Jet black glass combined with a striking stainless steel handle presents a balanced harmony, while bold horizontal lines allow for a continuous design aesthetic. The high proportion of glass creates a serene atmosphere, while floating handles engage onlookers to explore PureLine further. Miele's PureLine Generation 6000 sets a new standard for premium appliances.

FLOORING

The floors within each home are custom designed by BIG. The main living areas feature a large scale wood parquet, emulating the modularity of the building. The bathroom floors feature a similar concept but the effect of the modularity is achieved through custom coloured terrazzo tiles.

BATHROOMS

A man in a dark suit and a woman in a black dress are standing near the kitchen counter, engaged in conversation. The woman is holding a glass of red wine.

A modern staircase with black steps and a white wall is visible in the background. The staircase is positioned next to a wall with a textured, metallic finish.

A dining table with black chairs is set up in the dining area. The table is set with plates, glasses, and silverware. The chairs are black with a modern, curved design.

A large, black, rectangular artwork or screen is mounted on the wall in the dining area. The artwork is abstract and features a dark, moody landscape.

BATHROOM MATERIALITY

The materiality of the bathrooms is inspired by the concept of anchoring the service spaces within the homes. The dark cladding of the bathroom walls are complimented with matte black plumbing fixtures and a coloured vanity which plays off the hues of the glass block façade. These elements are contrasted with the lighter tones of the custom terrazzo flooring and custom white frosted pendant light fixtures.
